SUSPECT ADMITS HE'S LIQUOR STORE BANDIT

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, July 1.—No one is better qualified to speak of the spending side of government than Comptroller General McCarl. He knows what he is talking about, after fifteen years of riding herd on executive expenditures in Washington. His intimate knowledge of the use made of the mounting billions that have been dispensed in the past three years puts him in position to speak with unquestioned authority, and anything he may say about what the New Deal has done with the taxpayer's monies will be treated with the respect it deserves.

Mr. McCarl is the sort of public servant that we have in mind when we speak enviously of the British Civil Service. Through the terms of four presidents he had administered his office without a trace of politics or partisanship.

It gives one cold chills to speculate about what kind of man Mr. Roosevelt may select to fill Mr. McCarl's place. There are plenty of rubber dollar boondogglers licking their chops for just this sort of job.

Here is a story brought back by a local B. P. W. club member who has just returned from the state convention held on the Great Lakes aboard the S. S. Octara: one of New Castle girls was up early and while returning to her stateroom with a pitcher of hot water decided to get her neighbor up early and knocked at the door. Lady neighbor opened her door, very sweetly said "Good morning. Oh, thank you so much" and immediately took possession of the hot water and returned to the early caller an empty pitcher. Was the caller non-plussed? She was, but retained her nonchalance.

The highway guard rail posts along the Perry highway have been touched up with sparkling coats of white paint.

The exterior of the city building is being brightened by a corps of painters these days. Looks good, too!

The eccentric Marion A. Zioncheck, Democratic representative of the state of Washington, passed through New Castle yesterday on a B. & O. passenger train, but no one was permitted to speak to him. Zioncheck was under guard of four Washington policemen, and was accompanied by his Democratic colleague, Representative Wallgren, also of the state of Washington.

Police Hope To Round-Up Two Others In Daylight Hold-Up On Produce Street

Thomas Hevorich, 38, Struthers, O., arrested Tuesday by State Policemen John J. Hennicke and Harry Stinnett, has confessed to having been one of a trio who robbed the State Liquor store, Produce street of several hundred dollars on October 19, 1935. He was taken before Squire James C. Brice, charged with armed robbery, pleaded guilty and was held for court. The information was sworn to by County Detective A. S. Leslie.

According to Hennicke, officer in charge of the local State police detachment he believes another member of the trio is Frank Bydo, Youngstown. Hennicke claims his investigation tends to connect Bydo with the robbery. At present Bydo is held on a charge of robbery in the Mahoning county, O., jail. Attaches of the store will try to identify him today. The identity of the third party has not yet been established but Hennicke and Stinnett hope to secure this information.

Asks Sanctions Be Abandoned

Eden Says Sanctions Now Are Useless—Not Recognizing Italy's Conquest

(BULLETIN)

GENEVA, July 1.—The League of Nations assembly should not "in any way recognize Italy's conquest of Abyssinia," British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared today in expounding his government's views before the assembly.

Then Eden made the expected appeal that sanctions against Italy be abandoned.

It is the view of the British government, said Eden, that sanctions now are useless, and that only "military action" could change the Italo-Ethiopian situation from its present status.

"Military action" at present is impossible, Eden said.

Complaints Result In Mayor Issuing Request To Motorists

Owing to many complaints of speeding, Mayor Charles E. McGrath this morning issued a public request to motorists to abandon speeding and reckless operation of motor vehicles in the City of New Castle.

"The police department has received many complaints of speeding and reckless operation of cars. The complaints come from different sections of the city and, therefore, I request motorists to stop the practice.

"Beginning today, the department of police, under the jurisdiction of Chief Ralph Criswell, will make a check of speeding and reckless driving. It will not be a campaign to secure fines, but instead a move to secure safe driving," the mayor stated.

Special Session Fails To Act Upon Mothers' Assistance Measure

By ARTHUR H. WAKELEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, July 1.—Compromise went by the board among Pennsylvania's special legislators today as the deadline for placing the state in line with the federal Social Security Act slipped by with no agreement achieved on the controversial Mothers' Assistance bill.

Although indicating the problem might again be attacked today, the joint legislative conference committee on the Brancato Mothers' Assistance bill failed utterly to reconcile partisan differences at a meeting last night. As a result, Democratic leaders said, Pennsylvania will lose some $600,000 in funds provided under the federal act.

Equally remote as senate and house prepared to wind up their ninth week was the hoped-for compromise agreement on an unemployment relief appropriation to carry the state's jobless through next January. Gov. George H. Earle's recommendation for a $55,000,000 appropriation went begging for Republican support in the senate. G.

Situation Develops After Congress Is Adjourned And Funds Are Not Provided

PRESIDENT SEEKS TO PROVIDE FUNDS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Finding of funds to finance drought relief was the chief problem confronting the administration today as conditions threatened to become more critical than in the disastrous drought of 1934.

In that year congress appropriated $500,000,000 for drought relief, and $250,000,000 to combat a grasshopper plague in the grain belt.

This year the drought conditions did not become critical until after congress had adjourned, and the only direct appropriation available was $250,000, appropriated to combat another grasshopper invasion.

Situation More Severe

Since congress adjourned, the drought situation has become more severe from the Rockies to the Appalachians, with another drought area during the cotton planting season in Georgia, the Carolinas and parts of Alabama and Tennessee.

To find funds, President Roosevelt has appointed Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, acting director of the budget Daniel W. Bell, resettlement administrator Rexford Guy Tugwell, and assistant WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams.

From the 1934 appropriation the

Several New Angles To Mystery Slaying Develop—Former Convict Is Sought

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 1.—A flurry of activity at detective headquarters early today gave rise to rumors of new developments in the investigation of the strange brickbat murder of Mrs. Florence Thompson Castle.

New major developments in the mysterious slaying of the 24-year-old night club hostess, beaten to death in her near Northside hotel room Monday morning while her 7-year-old son conversed with the murderer, were:

The precocious and handsome son, Jimmy, was rushed to the detective bureau for a five minute interview.

"Eddie" Mack, 27, a night club master of ceremonies, was seized for questioning and held incommunicado after he finished conducting a floor show early today.

Search For Several Persons

Search for James D. Britt, former Stevens Point, Wis. furrier, who escorted the murder victim on night club rounds several weeks ago, was intensified with police declaring his presence "of utmost importance" to the investigation.

Search was ordered for Edward Lynch, alias Ernest La Vergne, wanted by federal authorities and a former inmate of the Colorado state prison where Mrs. Castle's second husband is now a prisoner.

The revelation Mrs. Castle was bigamously married to her third

Governor Landon's Outing Veers Into Conferences

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ESTES PARK, Colo., July 1.—Governor Alfred M. Landon arose at daylight today to leave at 8:30 a. m. for a 46-mile trip across the great Continental Divide to Grand Lake, Colo., a trout fisherman's mecca more than 8,000 feet above sea level.

Driven in a roadster by his daughter Peggy Ann Landon and trailed by a bus load of newspapermen, the G. O. P. presidential nominee was to be the guest of Arthur J. Carruth, Jr., a Topeka editor who has a fishing lodge at Grand Lake.

The governor and Carruth planned to spend the day fishing mountain streams which feed the mighty Colorado river.

Today's sojourn virtually marked the end of the nominee's period of isolation from campaign worries here. Scheduled to arrive back in Topeka July 6, the governor has conferences with political leaders and campaign aides slated for the remainder of his stay in Colorado.

Before his departure for Grand Lake this morning, the governor revealed that he expected to confer here tonight or tomorrow morning with Senator Robert D. Carey, Republican of Wyoming. Senator Carey telegraphed the nominee he would arrive here some time tonight.

Governor Landon also announced that his campaign aides, Charles P. Taft, son of former President Taft; Ralph West Robey, Columbia university economist, and Earl Taylor, agricultural specialist, would arrive here tomorrow from Topeka. Originally scheduled to get here yesterday, the trio delayed the departure from Topeka when the nominee decided to take today's outing at Grand Lake.

Taft, Robey and Taylor, who have been engaged in research work for the governor since his nomination, are bringing data for incorporation in the governor's acceptance speech on which he has been at work since his arrival here.

Bass, Muskies, Pickerel, Crappies Become Legal Prey Today

Many Of Streams Clouded By Recent Rains, Live Bait Best

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 1.—Pennsylvania's most widely sought game fish drew thousands of anglers today to familiar water haunts today as the season on the fighting bass and members of its family opened for a five-months' run.

With many streams reported clouded from recent heavy rains, live bait fishermen were conceded the day's best luck in the quest for large and small-mouth bass, wall-eyed pike and pickerel. All four species, with calico, rock and strawberry bass, crappies and muskellunge became legal prey last midnight. The season closes November 30.

NATURAL BRIDGE, Va., July 1.—The 100-odd residents of this historic southern showplace labored today to identify two women, killed with three identified men in Virginia's second major bus crash tragedy in recent months.

As state police prepared to return the bodies of J. J. Olderson, driver of the Southeastern Greyhound lines bus, and J. P. Valuable Ring Is Recovered

Butler Police Recover Ring Lost By Mother Of Mrs. A. C. Hoyt Of New Castle

Due to the thoroughness and honesty of a Butler, Pa., police officer, Mrs. N. P. Nieberlander of St. Louis, mother of Mrs. A. Crawford Hoyt of Winter avenue has a diamond ring back, which she thought was gone.

Mrs. Nieberlander had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt and was on her way to New York by automobile. A stop was made at a service station in Butler and with her chauffeur Mrs. Nieberlander went on. Nearing Ebensburg she noticed that a cluster diamond ring, a ring to which she attached a large sentimental value, was missing.

She called the Butler police from Ebensburg and suggested that she may have pulled it off when she was drying her hands on a paper towel in the service station. The officer investigated and found that the old paper towels had been burned in a furnace.

Sitting the ashes under the furnace the officer found the ring, badly smoked but not destroyed. He immediately got in touch with Mrs. Hoyt at New Castle and the ring has been returned.

FIVE BILLION YEAR'S DEFICIT

Fiscal Year Adds Big Debt

U. S. Estimated Nearly $5,000,000,000 More Than Was Received In Revenue

RECEIPTS INCREASE DURING PAST YEAR

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 1.—The treasury wound up the administration's financial operations for the fiscal year with a deficit of approximately $5,000,000,000 on Tuesday.

As the 1937 fiscal period gets underway at midnight, the public debt will stand at slightly less than the record mark of $34,000,000,000 attained after the huge financing program of June 15.

According to the latest figures available, the treasury since last July 1 has spent $4,712,000,000 more than it has taken in. Revenue derived from all sources amounted to approximately $4,100,000,000 while disbursements totalled nearly $9,000,000,000.

Although the Roosevelt administration has never achieved a balanced budget during its tenure of office, the deficit for the 1936 fiscal year will be considerably less than was predicted by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

While the president in his last budget message forecast a deficit of $3,540,000,000 for the year, Morgenthau revised this figure upwards to $5,000,000,000. The secretary's revision followed passage of the $2,000,000,000 soldiers bonus bill and invalidation of AAA processing taxes by the supreme court.

Veterans Hold Bonds
Through the record peacetime financing operation of this month, the government borrowed $1,000,000,000 in cash principally to meet bonus payments. Up to June 26, veterans have cashed only $547,000,000 of the $1,711,000,000 in checks and bonds issued to that time. The balance of the June borrowing added to funds already in the federal cash till gives the treasury a working balance of approximately $2,500,000,000 to start the new fiscal year.

Healthy signs of industrial recovery are reflected in revenue statistics for the past 12 months. Income taxes amounted to approximately $1,500,000,000 against $1,098,000,000 during the same period a year ago.

Miscellaneous internal revenue approached $2,000,000,000, a gain of $300,000,000 over the 1935 fiscal period. Customs receipts also were considerably above those of last year.

Among the biggest items of expenditure during the 1936 fiscal year were $1,244,000,000 for WPA; $750,000,000 for national defense; $1,100,000,000 for public debt interest and retirement; $495,000,000 for PERA; $483,000,000 for emergency conservation work and $344,000,000 for AAA.

O. P. legislative leaders insisted upon their demand for "more facts and information" before taking any action.

The conference committee's session on the Brancato bill followed adoption by the senate of a resolution calling for an investigation of "wholesale dismissals" of members of mothers' boards throughout the state.

Should Have Facts
Introducing the resolution, Senator Frank J. Harris, R. Allegheny, asserted it was "time the senate learned the true facts as to dismissals" of the board trustees. He charged there were 153 changes of trustees during 1935, after only two removals during the period between 1923 and 1935.

"If these figures are correct," he said, "then I submit there is need for a change. I think the senate should be having the facts. If these women are being removed from office for political reasons, we ought to know about it."

To obtain information, Harris' resolution called upon the state department of welfare to furnish the senate with a complete tabulation and summary of changes that have taken place among the mothers' board members from 1923 to the present time.

After advancing its calendar, the senate turned to the Social Security program for discussion before adjourning for the day. With the relief problem still deadlocked, it was anticipated today's sessions would be short and followed by adjournment for the week.

To Probe Teachers Colleges
Light calendars faced both the branches, with the two houses remaining in session primarily for the outcome of the controversy on the mothers' assistance measure.

A meeting of the Senate Appropriations committee was slated for today, while the finance committee of the upper chamber awaited a reply from state WPA administration Edward N. Jones for information on reducing the direct relief rolls.

A special committee of the senate, meanwhile, began its organization for an investigation of the administration of state teachers colleges, particularly Indiana State Teachers college. The group includes Senators Alonzo S. Batchelor, R. Beaver; Benjamin H. Thompson, R. Westmoreland; Leroy E. Chapman, R. Warren; Edward B. Bennett, R. Indiana; and Edward R. Frey, D. Allegheny.

LIQUOR STORE ROBBER OF LAST FALL ARRESTED

was taken into custody. Hennicke had been in custody on the theory that Hevovich was connected with the liquor store robbery here and when he was brought to the State police headquarters here he was identified by one of the customers who was in the liquor store when it was robbed, the officers report. The witness pointed out Hevovich as the man who shoved a revolver against his stomach. Hevovich later confessed, the police say.

According to reports received by the State police Hevovich served more than eight years of a 15 to 20 years sentence in Columbus, O., prison. Youngstown police believe he had some connection with the Karpis gang, Hennicke was told.

Tells Of Escape

The State police learned that after the robbery here the bandits escaped in a car which previously had been stolen. They went down Croton avenue, turned over Mill street and while the exact route to Grant street, or Route 422, has not yet been obtained, Hevovich said they escaped by speeding over Route 422, the New Castle-Youngstown road.

According to Hennicke the bandit claims they got about $200. Estimates of the amount stolen at the Liquor store said the bandits got away with about $375.00 but overlooked $700.00.

The liquor store attaches, held up at 11:15 a. m. October 19, were Louis Gunton, Hyman Levine and Frank De Mauro.

When a witness who was in the store at the time of the robbery saw Hevovich yesterday he pointed his finger at the bandit, positively identified him and said he would never forget the experience, adding that he would never forget having had a revolver shoved against his stomach, state police say.

Police authorities from eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania towns plan to come here, it is reported, in the hope of finding out if Hevovich was connected with robberies in their cities. A bank was robbed at Columbiana, a theater was robbed at Sharon and a club also was held up at Farrell, according to reports.

Attaches of the State liquor store here today identified Frank Bydo, held in Mahoning County, O., jail as one of the three men who robbed the Produce Street store here October 19, 1935, state police reported this afternoon. The attaches of the store were taken to Youngstown by State Trooper Harry Stinnett and County Detective A. S. Leslie.

Bydo is held in jail there in default of $10,000, bail having been identified as a participant in robberies in Ohio.

Bydo will not be brought to New Castle as he will be held in Ohio to answer to the alleged crime there.

The third bandit has not yet been taken into custody although efforts are being made to ascertain his identity.

HUNT SEVERAL IN SLAYING OF CHICAGO WOMAN

husband, Faber Castle, Chicago butcher.

Release of Sidney Schaps, 32, master of ceremonies at the night club where Mrs. Castle was formerly employed and confessed sweetheart of the murder victim.

To Question Boy

Announcement that Jimmy, whose realistic story of the murderous attack on his mother was viewed with growing skepticism by police, would be questioned by psychiatrists today.

Jimmy's unscheduled visit to detective headquarters last night assertedly was to view Dr. J. P. Gard, a physician who had performed professional services for Mrs. Castle and had been held for questioning. Jimmy had told police he could identify the physician. He failed to recognize the physician, though he picked out all the police men in the room whom he had seen before, Dr. Gard was released.

It was considered probable Jimmy was also asked to view rogues gallery pictures in an attempt to identify Lynch as the man who talked with him and his mother in the lobby of the hotel Sunday afternoon. The boy told police the killer was the same man.

Importance To Development

Importance was attached to apprehension of Lynch. He had been advised to get in touch with Mrs. Castle, police learned, by friends in Colorado. He is known to have seen her last May, shortly after his partner in an alleged Denver robbery was arrested by federal agents here.

Mrs. Castle, police said, inquired of the local bureau of federal investigation if a reward had been offered.

It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, thereby closes the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments."

ferred for information leading to the capture of Lynch, charged with fleeing from Colorado to Missouri to escape prosecution for a robbery. Although no reward was offered, police theorized she may have offered to "put the finger" on the convict for a consideration, as she had been ill for weeks and was in dire need of funds. This revenge would have been a motive for her slaying.

Police also considered the possibility she may have attempted to use her information to secure funds from Lynch or his friends, making attempted blackmail a motive.

In Quarry On Boy

Police were in a quandary concerning the handsome Jimmy. The lad, who sleeps at night with a toy revolver under his pillow, has apparently suffered no emotional reaction to his mother's brutal slaying.

Some investigators are taking his story of the slaying at face value, while others declare the child is romancing, and a fashioned the strange tale out of whole cloth.

Jimmy's father is James B. Thompson who was divorced from Mrs. Castle in 1933, has remarried and is now living in Boston. The boy arrived here Sunday from Wilkes Barre, Pa., where he lives with his paternal grandparents, to visit his mother for two months.

"I don't see how any son could maintain the attitude he did," Capt. William J. O'Brien said of Jimmy today. "The first inclination of a normal boy under such circumstances, it seems to me, would be to scream and run for help."

Jimmy's attitude toward his mother was so remarkably cool that he was even able to turn over and go back to sleep after her murderer fled through the window."

dress, and five rings on her fingers. She had gray hair and weighed about 150 pounds. The other appeared to be around 40 and had black hair.

Olderson and Hamilton, along with two other bus drivers, both of whom escaped unscathed when the bus slipped from a wet highway and rolled over five times, finally thudding into a signboard, were enroute to Philadelphia to obtain and drive new buses back to Roanoke. The unhurt drivers were C. F. Worrell and Clyde Carter, were of Birmingham.

Seven In Hospital

In Jackson Hospital at Lexington, Va., 14 miles away, seven passengers, suffering from injuries ranging from cuts and bruises to a broken pelvis, were declared out of danger. They were: Miss Annette Berman, New York; Mrs. Philip Robert Burman, New York; Allen Burman, New York; Miss Cecelia Burton, Hampton, Tenn.; Miss Elizabeth Tyler, Bristol, Tenn.; T. Connors, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Henry P. Elsmann, Richmond, Va.

Nine-year-old Allen Burman, who suffered a broken jaw, was reported the hero of the catastrophe. His face smashed against the metal framework of the bus as it careened toward the stone parapet of the bridge, the New York youngster gamely extricated himself from the wreckage, and then singlehandedly dragged his mother and sister to safety.

The billboard which stopped the bus's wild charge stands at the southern approach to the famous natural bridge. Townspeople declared its provident intervention with the vehicle's skid averted a drop into the ravine below and almost certain death for all of the bus's 33 occupants.

Those passengers with minor injuries went to the hotel in Natural Bridge, where first aid was administered.

Identify One Woman

Lexington, Va., July 1.—One of the bodies of two women killed in the bus crash at nearby Natural Bridge, Va., last night today was identified as that of Lena Holden, of Goodview, Va. The other body still defies identification.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Backers Of Third Party Are Split

Lemke, Townsend, And Rev.
Smith Are Not In Accord
On Some Subjects

ELECTORATE IS REALIGNING

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1000 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Just as I predicted (it's nice to have made a fulfilled prophecy), the groups Congressman William Lemke was counting on to combine in support of his Union party presidential candidacy are failing to get together.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend already expresses doubts of his old age pensioners' liking for the Lemke movement. At first the doctor seemed rather friendly toward it. Now, however, he says that the old age pensioners won't make up their minds before their meeting in Cleveland, July 15-19. He suggests that they may prefer to name their own candidate, ignoring Lemke.

The trouble with these third party folk is that they don't agree among themselves. Instead of forming a third party, when it comes to a show-down their idea is to form several different and conflicting independent parties, thus offsetting one another.

DIFFERENCES

Perhaps, as Dr. Townsend forecasts, the old age pensioners will pick their own candidate. Perhaps not. Either way, it's clear from the doctor's comment that they're not wildly enthusiastic for Lemke.

Lemke makes his appeal especially to agriculture, by a method involving monetary inflation. On that basis one might suppose he could command the backing, for example, of Senator Elmer Thomas. Thomas is from Oklahoma, an agricultural state as Lemke's North Dakota. He also is an inflationist. Nevertheless no Thomasonian cheers are heard for Lemke. Why? Why, Thomas knows that Lemke doesn't stand a Chinaman's chance. It pays him better to stay at least nominally Democratic.

Labor shows no signs of getting on board the Lemke barge. It sympathizes with third party sentiment, but not for Lemke's kind of a third party.

LONG'S FOLLOWERS

The Rev. Gerald J. K. Smith, who has assumed that he is the late Senator Huey P. Long's successor, appears mildly Lemke-ish, but the machine Huey Long organized manifests a disposition to toss the Rev. Gerald L. K. overboard as its leader, not caring to tie itself up with a losing venture.

Neither the Wisconsin Progressives nor the Minnesota Farmer-Laborites gravitate Lemke-ward.

Father Charles E. Coughlin and Senator Lynn J. Frazier are the only outstanding Lemke-ites I know of. And I wonder if Father Coughlin can deliver his following at the polls. As for Senator Frazier, he was co-author, with Representative Lemke, of the Frazier-Lemke bill, upon which, the bill having been lost in the last congress, Lemke is basing his campaign. In such circumstances he hardly can be other-wise than pro-Lemke. Parenthetically it's noteworthy that Frazier's North Dakota colleague, Senator Gerald P. Nye, is noncommittal.

LEMKE'S HOPE

Congressman Lemke surmises that, with his Union party in the field, no candidate will win an electoral majority-over-all and, consequently, that the presidential decision will be thrown into the house of representatives.

It's the height of an improbability.

The same prediction was made in 1924, when the late Senator Robert M. La Follette, a far stronger candidate than Congressman Lemke is at present, was a third party aspirant, and the senator carried only his own state of Wisconsin. A similar prediction was made when Theodore Roosevelt ran as a Bull Moose, and he couldn't do it.

Congressman Lemke flatters himself.

RE-SHUFFLING

The electorate is re-aligning certainly.

It looks to me likelier to re-align by a re-shuffling to the old parties than by the injection of a new one into the situation.

The re-shuffling already is well in progress.

However, a third party might break into the situation with a strong enough leader.

Congressman Lemke isn't strong enough to make even a dent.

Four years hence such a leader may have developed—to take over one of the old parties or to create a new one.

But this campaign will be under the old-time names, if not quite of the old-line character. The old-line names and the new-line character will be commingled. Democrats will vote for Republicans; believing them to be Democrats and vice versa.

Personalities will figure largely. President Roosevelt has a dandy. Governor Landon's is as different from it as the poles are apart but it seems to be all right—or the right kind is being manufactured for him, anyway. Lemke will have to go some to create one.

A Runaway Lad's Bedroom

Richard Meehan, 6 years old, but a chronic victim of the wanderlust, shows an employe at the Williamsburg Bridge, joining Brooklyn and New York over the East River, where he spent the night while police and his frantic parents combed the city for him. In one of his previous jaunts Dick fell into the river and was fished out by a barge captain. (Central Press)

On Court House Hill

During the month of June forty-one applications were filed at the prothonotary's office for first papers by those who desire to become naturalized. This is the largest number ever recorded for a single month. In addition to those asking for first papers there were a number for second.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna has had a number of applications for the 1935 edition of the Pennsylvania Industrial Directory which it is announced has just been completed. Mr. Hanna does not have a supply of these books which he says must be obtained from the Department of Property and Supplies, Tenth and Market streets, Harrisburg, Pa.

Nothing was done with the case of John Dewey Seever, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Catherine Rodgers, at the sentence court held this week. This was for the reason that an application for a new trial has been filed. The notes of testimony must be written out, and the case argued. A decision will then be handed down by the court, either granting or refusing a new trial. If it is refused, Seever will be immediately sentenced to imprisonment for life, as was done in the other case in which he was convicted of the murder of his wife, Stella Seever. Meanwhile Seever will be kept in the Lawrence county jail.

The county commissioners are advertising an auction sale of three houses which are located on the right of way of the Edenburg viaduct, now in process of construction. Two are known as the Medina houses, and the other belongs to Charles Stanley. The purchasers are to remove the buildings by July 15. The removing of the buildings by that time is specifically required as workmen are already grading for the viaduct. Bids on the houses will be opened by the county commissioners on July 7th at 10 o'clock.

Final account of Rev. Charles Z. Bell, executor in the estate of L. R. Kunkle has been confirmed by the court and distribution ordered. Total assets were $3,233.36, total credits, $952.94. Balance due estate, $2,280.42. This was directed to be paid to Mrs. Louise Gregor.

Bert Dinsmore, who has been making extensive repairs to the Covert's station bridge, completed the work this week. He says that there is a surprisingly large amount of travel over the bridge, and predicts that when the Edenburg viaduct is completed, there will be considerable of an increase. All the other bridges in the county are now in good shape, according to Mr. Dinsmore.

With the signing of the Old Age Pension bill by Governor Earle about one thousand applicants who are on the Lawrence county waiting list are wondering how long it will be before their checks are coming in. The bill, recently passed by the legislature, is designed to bring the state into line with the Federal Social Security program, and enable Pennsylvania to receive Federal funds to aid in pension payments. Work of investigating applications for pensions has been going steadily forward the Mothers' Assistant Board, which administers the fund, wanting to be in shape to secure the pensions with a minimum of delay, once money is provided with which to pay them. At present, there are some four hundred who are receiving their pension checks. Many applicants are on the county relief rolls. When the pensions are granted they will be taken off the relief rolls.

Owing to the opening of the bass season today, County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland reports that there has been a great rush for fishing licenses this week. During a part of the time applicants have stood in line for their turn. When people are as anxious to stay in line to pay their taxes as they are to take out fishing and hunting licenses, it will be an indication that the millennium is just around the corner.

WPA Adds Course In First Aid

Upon request, W. P. A. Education has added a special course in First Aid for men, to be given at North Street building, Monday night; Lincoln-Garfield, Tuesday night; Mahoning, Wednesday night. Hours will be from 7 to 9. Mr. Charles Hannon of the N. Y. A., will be the instructor.

The aim of this course is to provide the student with the basic knowledge supporting his own health practices, as well as learning how to care for an injured person properly, and how to do the right thing at the right time. Registrations will be open to all men whether employed or unemployed, and is free. N. Y. A. youth should find this course especially interesting.

Mrs. Murray, regular Health Ed. Teacher, of the Adult Program, will conduct a class for girls along similar lines at North Street on Monday night, from 7 to 9, Lincoln-Garfield, Wednesday, 6 to 8 and Mahoning, Thursday, 5 to 7:30.

Landon Will Receive 75 Per Cent Of Electoral Vote Declares Hamilton

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—John D. M. Hamilton, the new Republican national committee chairman, expects Gov. Alfred M. Landon, the Republican presidential nominee, to receive 75 per cent of the electoral vote, he declared at a press conference here today.
"And I always try to keep my estimates under the actual figure," Hamilton, here to address the Republican state convention tonight, added.
"The campaign is shaping up nicely," he continued. "I have just received a confidential report on conditions in the northwest and really it is astounding."

Creates Strange Monsters From Living Tissues

(International News Service)
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. Strange monsters, produced as experiments in the transplanting of animal tissues, by a technique far more delicate than that of any ordinary surgery, were described here by Dr. Ross G. Harrison, chairman of the Yale department of zoology at the annual Sigma Xi lecture.
Dr. Harrison described the transplanting of living embryonic tissues from one species to another under microscopic magnification of from 15 to 25 diameters by means of delicate glass needles, diminutive scissors, hair loops and other instruments.
By grafting two complete embryos together, a double monster can be produced, Dr. Harrison said. If one of the species is of larger size, the smaller may become almost a parasite attached to the other.
Most parts of the body, the eyes and less especially, will retain their normal size when transplanted, but the heart will always grow or reduce itself to fit the new host, the Yale professor stated.
The transferred tissues combine so readily with the host, Dr. Harrison said, that it is difficult to distinguish the two. Hence the tissues are dyed in order to study the growth of the transplant to maturity.

Pinchot Road Funds Are Running Short

County Commissioners Unsuccessful In Getting Improvements Made Here

County Commissioners George Bolinger and Floyd Cotton, their attorney, William McElwee, Jr., and State Highway Superintendent, John Shaw, have returned from Harrisburg where they had a conference with the state highway department, relative to the improvement of several roads in the county.
They were informed that the state is short of highway funds for the building of Pinchot roads, and that it may be some time before the work can be undertaken. The projects were the Potter Run road, Moravia-New Galilee road, and a section between Hillville and Bessemer and one or two others.
Early in the spring these projects were placed on the calendar for improvement this summer, and the county commissioners spent considerable time getting releases of damages. Since then it is claimed that the state has been put to considerable extra expense, on account of flood conditions and the roads cannot now be built.
Beaver county officials were also at Harrisburg this week relative to projects in that county but had no better success than the Lawrence county men.

It is true that a crisis increases opportunity. Look at the open space when everybody plays in close for a punt.

Home Course Needed Today, Lawther Says

New Penn State Floor Coach Gives Vocational Talk Before Kiwanis

Today's school courses, beginning with junior high school, should include for girls a required home economics course that would teach them general household practices. Prof. John D. Lawther, for years a Westminster college professor and basketball coach, told New Castle Kiwanians in an address on "Vocational Training" today.
"I think our school courses are totally inadequate in that regard," Lawther said, adding that figures reveal that 21,000,000 persons are actively engaged in some sort of home care today.
Asserting that late records show that 80 per cent of college graduates eventually go into housework of some kind, directly or indirectly, Prof. Lawther remarked:
"And what training do we give this 80 per cent? We give them French, Spanish and similar subjects and the home caretakers must learn their job by trial and error and at the expense of a man's pocketbook."
Mr. Lawther spoke of other phases of vocational training in the address which featured the club's periodical "Junior Kiwanian" program.
Chairman C. D. Parker of the vocational guidance committee introduced William Boston and Clyde Brest as the "Junior Kiwanians" who will meet with the club for the next three months. Retiring from that role were Edwin Wilson and David Rowland.
Prof. Lawther, the newly appointed basketball coach of Pennsylvania State college, was presented by M. R. Horning, member of the vocational guidance committee which supervises the "Junior Kiwanian" activities.

USED BIBLE TEXT FOR ADDRESS OF BAPTIST WORKER

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga.—Dr. J. W. Beagle, field secretary of the Baptist Home Mission Board, is a celebrity as far as the postal employees here are concerned.
Recently a letter addressed to "Phillipians, 4-19, Red Rock Building, Atlanta, Ga." was promptly delivered to Dr. Beagle.
The reason why—Dr. Beagle is known by Baptists all over the South for his use of Phillipians 4:19, "But my God shall supply all your needs, according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus."
The letter justified again his belief in this text, for it contained a check for $6.40 sent by Sunday school children of Chester, Va., to be used in buying Bibles for Indians on the mission field in Oklahoma.

By the time firemen arrived at the scene, considerable damage had been done to the roller. The apparatus is owned by the Holmes Construction Company, who have the contract for constructing the Edenburg viaduct.

Woman's Stomach Like Gas Factory After Meals

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and indigestion. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE OF STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking the new, double-acting stomach alkalizer, called WHITE SWALLOW—the scientific formula of FOUR (4) different remedies for stomach distress. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloating after eating. Headaches gone.
Acts At Once
WHITE SWALLOW neutralizes acids in the stomach, expels gas, relieves pain, bloating, swelling and headaches. Relief comes immediately. It is not habit-forming like soda. Pleasant to take and it settles the stomach at once.
Costs A Penny
Best of all, WHITE SWALLOW costs so little; less than 1c a dose. So it would be a mistake to go on suffering. We recommend this new, scientific remedy because we know it has helped so many.

PHEASANTS LAY SCRAMBLED EGGS

(International News Service)
KENNEWICK, Wash.—The laying season for pheasants at the Washington state game farm near here caused officials to send out a hurry-up call for a thousand sitting hens of the barnyard variety.
Officials discovered that the pheasant hens at the farm were dropping their eggs all over the place, without bothering to build a nest as their wild kin would do. Attendants were put to work gathering the eggs in baskets so that they might be hatched by domestic fowl here and at other game farms around the state.

Bar Fireworks Shooting In Park On July Fourth

Anyone who discharges fireworks in Cascade Park on July 4 will be arrested. Mayor Charles E. McGrath stated today.
The mayor said that for several days past persons have lit fire-crackers and threw them in the park.
"This is dangerous and we propose to stop it," he added.
The only fireworks to be allowed will be the usual display at night and this will be in charge of capable handlers, the mayor said.
Under a city ordinance the sale, display and discharge of fireworks is banned here.

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association
NEW YORK, July 1.—Interview
With an Octogenarian New Yorker:

Q. What amusements do you remember best from the New York of 50 years ago?

A. Rowing was a great sport in those days. People don't row much any more, though many of the Hudson river boat and yacht clubs go back to the sport. Also coaching. It was great sport to make up coaching parties for New Rochelle in those days.

Q. You notice that nearly every corner now has its soft drink stand in the Broadway sector. Why were Americans so slow to realize the profit possibilities of iced drinks?

A. Oh, we had our soda waters in those days. We spoke of them as "phosphates" if I remember correctly. But New Yorkers then went in for heartier stuff. Oysters were the popular street-corner snack. The oyster grill was the coffee pot lunchroom of 50 years back. It was also the after-theater gathering place of the smart folk. There was O'Neill's and Bristol's, both in Sixth avenue,
and there was the famous "Oyster Bay" far uptown, for those times, near what is now Times Square.

Q. Do you think fewer oysters are consumed in town now than were consumed per capita half a century ago?

A. I am convinced of it. Why, it was nothing to toss off two dozen blue points in the afternoon and then devour a dozen Lynnhavens after the theater. And quail. People don't eat quail the way they used to.
Men used to make wagers and enter upon marathon quail-eating contests, during which they swore to eat at least one quail a day for 30, 60 or 90 days. The lobster, too, seems to be fading as the dish of the rich. Why, if you talk about "lobster palaces" nowadays the younger generation won't know what you mean.

Q. Offhand what in New York life and customs has changed most in the half century with which you are familiar.

A. Heavens, boy! Everything has changed. Even the menus in the restaurants. I remember when only the classiest eating places had bills of fare. The names of the dishes used to be emblazoned on banners and hung from the ceiling. Sometimes corned beef and cabbage would be done in gold on a cerise background with silver tassels. It was irresistible. But of course the attitude toward women has changed most.

Q. How do you mean?

A. Well, in the Eighties and Nineties no first-rate hotel would allow a woman to register after dark, no matter how refined she looked, unless she was accompanied by a male relative. And they wouldn't let her enter by the main door; she had to sneak through a
"Ladies Entrance" around the corner, and if she wanted to wait for anyone downstairs she had to go into a special parlor provided for her, where a chambermaid acted as chaperone. Mrs. John Jacob Astor single-handedly overthrew the tradition when she arrived after sundown at the old Waldorf and horrified the clerk by refusing to leave when he said he couldn't accommodate her.

Q. Is that, in your opinion, the most revolutionary change?

A. The whole town, as I said, is topsy-turvy compared to what it used to be. But it would take hours to tell you all the changes. Why don't you run this interview in several sections and I'll give you a little material out of the past for each one, which you can use from time to time?

Q. That seems an excellent idea.

No Liquor Store At Sandy Lake

GROVE CITY, July 1.—Protests filed by citizens of Sandy Lake were successful in preventing the establishment of a state liquor store there, it was learned yesterday by Rev. C. C. Mohney. The Liquor Control Board notified him that the plans had been abandoned.

This community submitted a similar protest a year ago, and likewise was assured that a store would not be located here. A third Mercer county town, Mercer protested without success.

Mussolini's forces were marching on Rome, Badoglio, according to the story, said to the King, "What shall I do, wipe them out?" The King ordered, "No, no violence." Now, Mussolini rules and by his orders
Badoglio wipes out Haile Selassie and the government of Ethiopia.

ANYTHING COULD happen in Europe, and one of the things considered quite probable, extremely disturbing to respectable old England and others, is an agreement between Mussolini and Hitler, to make "a deal on Austria," profitable for both; not for Austria.

THERE IS ALWAYS, however,
the memory of 1914, when Austria, Italy and the Kaiser had the triple alliance that did not "stand up."
Such alliances usually go along racial lines if they are to last. France and Italy are natural allies, both Latin; England and the United States would probably be found not far apart if a really big world war should ever come with one or two other IFS.

SCIENCE PROUDLY demonstrates for the Westinghouse company a new lamp that "rivals the beams of the sun." The demonstrator explained that the temperature at the sun's surface is about 11,732 degrees Fahrenheit; while the new lamp reaches 25,232 degrees Fahrenheit. That, however, as scientists know, is a long way from the sun's best temperature.

According to Sir James Jeans, there prevails in the depths of the sun, temperature of "forty million degrees centigrade," which is considerably higher than any man-made temperature.

If you came within 1,000 miles of a five cent piece, with a temperature of 40,000,000 degrees centigrade, you would be burned to a cinder;
hard to believe, but true.

DR. ANGELL, PRESIDENT of Yale University, worries about education in connection with the effort to tax university-owned real estate.
It is to be hoped that such taxation will not happen, and it probably will not, because taxation of university property might be followed by taxation of church property.
That would shock many. The various churches would do well, for their own protection, to protect educational property. They have the power.

Sandy Lake Files Suit Vs. Farmer For Water Rights

(Special To The News)

MERCER, July 1.—A bill of complaint was filed in court by the borough of Sandy Lake against W. A.
Strausser, asking a preliminary injunction to restrain him from interfering with the water rights of the borough of Sandy Lake.

The junction was granted by the court and a hearing was set for July 13 at 10 o'clock.

The defendant Mr. Strausser owns an 88-acre farm on which are located several springs which supply the Sandy Lake reservoir. The plaintiff claims that by digging ditches near the reservoir he is interfering with the water supply for the town.

The defendant claims that he has been taking coal from his farm.

On April 15, 1918, Mr. Strausser, by deed, granted and conveyed all rights of the springs which are located on two parcels of ground to the borough of Sandy Lake, but reserved mineral rights.

Mercer County Wool Pool Totals Over 67,000 Pounds

MERCER, July 1.—The Mercer county wool pool was closed Saturday noon with a total delivery of 67,450 pounds from 424 members of the pool. This compares with 86,000 pounds received last year from 524 growers.

Quality of the wool is said to be high but the clip light and this is attributed to the hard winter and late pasture.

Police Save Bonus Money For Drunk

Last night, a man who had indulged in intoxicants, applied to Sergeant G. C. Syling, police headquarters, at city hall for a place to sleep. He said he was afraid to go home.

Syling asked the reason, whereupon the man pulled $558.37 out of a pocket, which was crumpled together. It was his bonus money.
Syling counted the money. The man said originally there was $100 more.

The money was locked in the police safe and the man was given a place to sleep. He received his money this morning.

Organizer Claims He Was Railroaded Out Of Steubenville

Asserts Eight Men Invaded Hotel Room And Escorted Him To Station

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 1.—First rumblings of open warfare in the drive to weld the steel industry into one big union came today when Claude R. Kramer, 55, of Massillon, O., an organizer for the steel workers' organizing committee, charged here he was "railroaded" out of Steubenville, O.

Kramer charged that eight men invaded his hotel room, went thru his dresser and bag, confiscated his papers, books, reports and letters and then hustled him aboard a train for Pittsburgh. This occurred, he said, after he had been taken before a man who represented himself as the mayor of adjoining Hollidays Cove and warned to "get out of town."

Kramer asserted he will file an affidavit relating his experience with the LaFollette senate committee investigating industrial "spies."

Start Remodeling Of Regent Theatre

Work upon the remodeling and refurnishing of the Regent theatre, which will cost $10,000, has been started, according to Spier Marousis, manager of the theatre today. The improvements will include 600 new seats, a new lighting system, an entirely new maple floor and new sound absorbing material on the walls.

The seats are the most modern theatre seats obtainable, known as streamlined seats, done in red leather and built to provide a maximum of comfort for the patrons. Delivery of the seats is expected within the next week or ten days.

On the walls celotex is being placed for the purpose of getting away from harsh sound reactions. This will be decorated and the lighting system changed.

When completed the Regent theatre will look nothing like what it does at the present time. With a long list of screen successes booked for the coming months Mr. Marousis is determined to give his patrons a theatre that is comfortable and attractive.

Chicago Man Is Shot To Death

Husband Of Woman Being Annoyed By Ardent Suitor Stages Shooting

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 1.—A tragic culmination to what police said was the victim's suit for a married woman's hand ended today when Jack Byers, 35, was shot to death in front of the home of Mrs. Jennie Spade, 24. Police sought the woman's husband, Thomas.

According to Mrs. Spade, Byers had been annoying her for some time with telephone calls, asking that she go out with him. He drove up this morning in front of her home in an auto, and an argument with the husband took place, during which the fatal shots were fired.

The word Sistine is derived from the Italian Sittino and the Latin Sextus. The Sistine chapel was so named for its founder, Pope Sixtus IV.

Reorganization Of Highway Patrol Is Taking Place

Four New Sub-Stations Will Be Established In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 1.—Capt. Charles H. Quarles, superintendent of the state highway patrol, today was carrying out the first steps of a highway patrol reorganization in which four new sub-stations will be established.

Approved by Secretary of Revenue John B. Kelly, the reorganization calls for new stations at Laporte, Cory, McConnellsburg and Coatesville.

As a result of the projected new stations in which the McConnellsburg station would become a part of Troop A, Harrisburg, the state highway patrol training school here will function completely as a training school housing students and instructors only.

With the McConnellsburg station a part of Troop A at the capital, Laporte will be added to Troop D, which now has headquarters at Kingston. Coatesville is added to the command of Troop E with headquarters at Philadelphia, and Cory is attached to Troop F with headquarters at Franklin.

Counselors Take Stage Last Night

Staff Delights Camp East Brookers By Comical Performance In Program

Tuesday night the girls at Camp East Brook were highly amused by the antics of their counselors, who discarded all dignity and became the old woman and her brood of children who lived in the shoe. Miss Betty Glover, camp director, played the part of the mother and the Misses Helen Haines, Katharine Melvin, Margaret Hertzler, Louise Davies, Clarissa Duff, Doris Marvin and Peggy Griffith were the children.

Monday night a "Guess Who I Am" party was conducted in charge of Miss Margaret Hertzler and all the campers dressed up in original costumes and performed in stunts. Prizes went to Patty Preston and Helen Connery, who represented Bill Robinson and Shirley Temple, Jean Fenati and Nancy Brown, who gave a pantomime of "My High Silk Hat", and Isabel Morgan, who appeared as Humpty Dumpty.

A bingo party is planned for this evening and the prizes are to be 75 balloons. Thursday night the three dramatic classes are preparing to present plays, and Friday night, just before the campers leave for their homes, they will have a farewell program.

A jacks tournament has been in progress and every one of the 45 girls has become a jacks fiend, according to reports drifting from the camp.

One of the campers told the director that her only complaint about camp life is that "time goes too fast."

Although Camp East Brook experienced a severe storm the other night the sleep of none of the campers was interrupted.

Candles and grease wicks had their good points. Electric lights can't kill all the night insects they attract.

Zioncheck Is Heading West

"Madcap" Congressman Is Denied Berth In Northwest Airlines Plane

(International News Service) CHICAGO, July 1.—Barred from a northwest airlines plane, Marion A. Zioncheck, madcap congressman from Seattle, enroute for his native city early today, muttering a toast to the nation's capital.

Washington, D. C. the congressman said, has "the largest beebus, the dumbest people and the dumbest police in the world."

Scheduled to leave for the west by plane early last evening, the eccentric legislator was taxed to a far and darkened corner of the airport. Nattily dressed in a white linen suit and blue shirt, the irrepressible congressman sat in the plane while another was swiftly warmed up, taxied to the loading ramp, loaded with passengers having reservations for the scheduled flight and flown away into the west.

Zioncheck Aroused
"A reservation mix-up" airlines officials explained.
"I shall consider this matter from a legal aspect," Zioncheck snapped. "I will consult with my attorney about it."

With that Zioncheck re-entered the police squad car which, sirens screaming, had rushed him to the airport at 60 miles per hour. The sirens began their howl as the detectives, who had been his constant companions since his arrival here, sped him to the union depot where he boarded the Milwaukee railroad's Olympian at 1:15 a. m. Drinking Party Facts Bared In Trial At Indiana

Those Who Accompanied Crash Victim Deny That She Was Intoxicated

(International News Service) INDIANA, Pa., July 1.—A jury of nine men and three women today considered testimony concerning a missing witness and a drinking party as the second trial of William J. Flowers, Butler realtor, swung into its third consecutive day.

Flowers was convicted in Butler county for negligence which caused the death of Miss Esther Von Krogh, Butler socialite, in an automobile collision on the Butler-Pittsburgh road last July 26. He was granted a new trial because of insufficient evidence and a change of venue because of prejudice in Butler county.

Arthur Covert, the missing witness, testified at the trial in Butler he was in the car which preceded the one Miss Von Krogh drove away from a dance they attended. His mother told the court of receiving postcards from her son, saying he would soon return. The postmarks, she said, were unreadable.

Victor Esterling, driver of the first of two automobiles which left the dance in an expedition, denied Miss Von Krogh was intoxicated when she fell while dancing with him. He said:

"I was teaching her some new dance steps. My foot slipped, tripping her, and she fell."

George Walter, 35, whose car Miss Von Krogh was driving at the time of the accident, testified he had his arm around the girl as they left the dance hall, but denied she was intoxicated and he had to support her. He asserted upon cross-examination:

"No, I wasn't holding her up. It was just a show of affection."

Judge Anthony Botti in first criminal court held Mrs. Hewitt under $2,500 bail on a fugitive-from-justice charge and $1,000 on the charge of attempted suicide. She was held to the Hudson county grand jury which meets September 24th. SEEK TO BRING OUT BIG U. S. VOTE NEXT FALL

Parties Ready For Campaign

Many Speakers To Take Part In Battle For Both Parties This Year

DEMOCRATS EVEN GOING INTO TEXAS

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Democratic and Republican chieftains here today revealed they have completed the ground-work for a slam-bang presidential campaign designed to bring out the biggest vote in history next November.

For the moment, intense activity at headquarters of the two parties was below the surface, but soon it will emerge to the surface. The machinery was ready, idling. Soon, it will slip into high gear and the presidential race will be off at a furious pace.

Republicans were today still scanning the Democrats' platform adopted at Philadelphia last week, and examining the acceptance speech of President Roosevelt delivered Saturday night.

In the Democratic camp, activity centered on plans for the speaking drive.

To Enlist Women

At the same time, Republicans formally announced the opening of a movement designed to enlist thousands of Republican women in a drive for election of Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas. Mrs. William D. Hoyal, assistant chairman of the Republican National committee, headed this activity.

Apparently, the Democrats will apply heaviest pressure in the Central Valley states of the Middle West.

Approximately 3,000 volunteers were on the roll of the democratic National committee speaking bureau. The bureau's acting head, Paul Aiken, said the party would use as many as necessary, to cover the country from coast to coast.

"There are many sections where it will not be necessary to send speakers in order to assure support for President Roosevelt," he said. "Nevertheless, we plan to cover these areas. We want to show the country just how wide and deep is New Deal approval."

Aiken has enlisted the aid of a number of senators and house members. Programs for cabinet members were still hazy.

New Castle Is Better Than Average Retail Trade Center In U. S.

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—New Castle is a better-than-average retail trade center, according to a study of 1933 sales figures released today by the Commerce Department.

In that year, retail sales in New Castle averaged $244 for each man, woman and child of the city. This per resident figure compared very favorably with per capita averages of only $204 for the country as a whole and $195 for the state of Pennsylvania. Per capita sales averaged $163 in Lawrence county as a unit, and $190 in Ellwood City.

With three one-hundredths of the nation's population, New Castle accounted for four one-hundredths of the country's retail trade.

Here are a few samples of the verses, though they lack much with-out the illustrations.
Susanna likes to sing,
She says she feels the smiles dancing about inside
And she has to sing.

Up—up—up—My tower goes so high
I wish that it could really grow,
Until it touched the sky.

It is surprising how many things have stories in them. There's the woolly, warm afghan that used to be Mother's when she was little. It has rainbow colors. And Susanna sometimes just shuts her eyes and whirls her pointing finger round and round, puts it down on the afghan quickly, and opens her eyes and there's red.

Ends
I never like the end of things,
The end of playing bird-with-wings,
Or witch, or store, or circus rings;
When I do a whistle tune,
And, oh, I never, never look
To see the end of any book.
I don't like ends at all, you see;
Why do they ever have to be?

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

KNOWS HOW TOTS FEEL

For a number of years I taught psychology at the Cleveland School of Education. I often would sit in the kindergarten practice school observing the little children and the way they reacted. Dorothy Mason Pierce, understood them. Almost breathless moments came for me and the children when, as happened now and then, Miss Pierce made some drawings on the board and recited some of her own poems.

At last these poems have appeared as "The Susanna Winkle Book". And how very charming are the illustrations by the author! The celebrated Patty Hill, in her introduction to this very delightful book, says:

"These buoyant verses were in a certain sense 'recoiled off' by a sort of 'grown-up child' at work and play with children. Her verses are inspired by an unusual ability on the part of an adult to sense the child's thrill of joy over a newly-acquired pair of shoes, which it is hoped will be discovered and commented upon before the day's work begins; or over a new kitten or a puppy at home, or best of all, it may be a new baby brother or sister."

For those fathers or mothers who understand the little child and read to this little listener, "The Susanna Winkle Book" probably ranks with the immortal "Child's Garden of Verses," by Robert Louis Stevenson, and "When We Were Very Young" by A. A. Milne.

Shows What Child Thinks

The author has that rare faculty of showing what children feel and think and like, and she has surpassing skill at making the verses say and the pictures portray the very things that little children like to read or hear about themselves.

Blum Presents Peace Appeal

French Premier Addresses League And Calls For Strengthening Body

HAILE SELASSIE'S APPEAL IGNORED

(International News Service)
GENEVA, July 1.—Linking his warning to an appeal for peace "with all people whatever their national regime," Leon Blum, socialist Premier of France, today told the League of Nations assembly that "we feel the shadow of war."

He practically ignored the dramatic appeal for aid made by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia as he took the lead in calling for reform and strengthening of the league.

"What are the intentions, offers, and guarantees of the powers who violated their engagements?" Blum asked, referring to Germany and Italy. "Are they ready to guarantee the future?"

Although silence was the reply of a majority of the assembly members to Haile Selassie's indictment, Swiss authorities kept the eight Italian correspondents who tried to shout him down in jail. Strong efforts were made by Count Bova Scoppa, Italian representative here, to secure their release on bail.

Warns On Outburst
When Paul Van Zeeland, assem-

ly president, opened the meeting he sternly warned that the slightest disturbance would be followed by "the most vigorous measures."

But Blum turned to Europe's woes, implicitly corroborating Haile Selassie's charge that Italy's aid in the European peace set-up was more important than the independence of Ethiopia.

"For the first time in 18 years, European war has become a possibility," said the French premier. Referring to France's peaceful aims, he said "France did not resort to war after Germany's reoccupation of the Rhineland. This was not an act of weakness. If France's frontiers or other frontiers guaranteed by France's obligations had been invaded, it would have been otherwise."

Farmer Is Injured Handling Hay Fork

BUTLER, Pa., July 1.—Plunging from a load of hay, which he was helping to harvest, Carl H. McCall, 18, of Butler R. D. 5, suffered severe head injuries. McCall was standing on the wagon as a fork of hay was being pulled into the mow. He was handling the rope, which tripped the fork when the rope suddenly broke.

McCall was thrown head foremost from the load, striking his head against the side of the mow and falling to the floor.

Ann Harding, blonde screen star, suggests this way to bake apples: Peel the top half of the apple and bake in the usual way until soft, but firm. Add a spoonful of sugar to each apple, place under a broiler and brown quickly, basting once or twice.

STATE POLICE ARE PROMOTED

Boettner Becomes Captain And Crowley Lieutenant—Promotions Effective Today

Two state police officers, both well known in New Castle, have been promoted effective today, according to an announcement by the state police department. Lieutenant Thomas M. Boettner and First Sergeant Martin J. Crowley, both of whom served many years in the Butler barracks, have been advanced. Lieutenant Boettner to a captaincy and Sergeant Crowley to a lieutenantcy.

Captain Boettner became acquainted with New Castle people during the Schroeder-Dague case. He it was who had charge of the investigation of the murder of the late Corporal Brady Paul who was slain on the Butler Road in December, 1929. He was on the case from the day it happened until the case was closed by execution. Captain Boettner is one of the original state policemen, having been with the service since 1905.

Sergeant Crowley, is also well known here, having been engaged in a number of cases that brought him to New Castle. He is a former member of the U. S. Navy and in 1916 enlisted in the state police. He has been the first sergeant since 1919.

It is not known whether Lieutenant Crowley will be assigned to another troop or will fill the vacancy created by the advancement of Lieutenant Boettner to a captaincy. Examinations will be held for the vacancy as a first sergeant.

Webber-Aiken Wedding Tuesday

Event Takes Place in Wurtemburg Methodist Church—Couple To Reside in Florida

ELLWOOD CITY, July 1.—In the galaxy of late June weddings, one of the most lovely was solemnized last evening at 8:30 in the Wurtemburg Methodist church when Miss Charlotte Elizabeth Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Webber of Camp Run, and Arthur Roy Aiken of Miami, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Aiken of Pleasant Hill, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Doak, pastor of the church, assisted by Homer Doak in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The single ring ceremony was used.

The vows were exchanged before an altar of palms and ferns. Preceding the ceremony Miss Marjorie Doak sang two beautiful selections, "O Promise Me" and "Because." She was accompanied by Miss Rebecca Wright, cousin of the bride, who also played the wedding march. A beautiful gown of traditional white satin with a slight train fashioned in the mode now decreed by stylists was chosen by the bride and she carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Ruby Aiken, sister of the groom, was chosen as bridesmaid, and she, too, wore a pretty gown of pink organza of floor length and carried a colonial bouquet. Harold Webber, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. Ray Miller of Ellport and Harry Ayers of Pittsburgh were ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Webber home for more than one hundred guests. During the evening a refreshing repast was served by guests by Orenthia Ayers of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Samuel Prinz of Clarion and Mrs. Chester Caldwell of this city. A cleverly decorated wedding cake was a feature of this period.

Mr. and Mrs. Aiken are well and favorably known in this vicinity and they have a host of friends who wish them "Bon Voyage" on the sea of matrimony. They attended the local high school, the groom graduating with the class of '23. The bride is a graduate of Slippery Rock State Teachers college and for a number of years has been a teacher in the Etna schools.

Thursday evening the couple will leave by motor for their new home in Miami, Fla., where Mr. Aiken is in the real estate business.

There were quite a number of out-of-town guests at the wedding, coming from Pittsburgh, Butler, West Pittsburg, Etna, and Portersville, Pa. The groom's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Aiken, of Salt Lake City, Utah, were here for the event.

Since the announcement of her approaching marriage Mrs. Aiken has been tendered a number of showers and the couple are the recipients of a very large collection of both beautiful and useful gifts for use in their new home.

Begin Patrolling N. Y.-Pennsylvania Border Line Today

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 1.—A staff of special investigators and 50 state highway patrolmen today began the task of patrolling the New York-Pennsylvania boundary to prevent illegal cross-border shipments of liquid fuels.

The precautionary border patrol was established by Secretary of Revenue John E. Kelly to guard against attempted tax evasions resulting from efforts to bootleg gasoline into Pennsylvania. A reduction in New York state's liquid fuel tax from four to three cents a gallon, effective today, caused Kelly to establish the patrol.

AROUND CITY HALL

For the purpose of gaining information, Earl R. Wimer, controller, polled all Third class cities in Pennsylvania to ascertain the stand they have taken relative to permits and licenses for dancing. The controller has given each councilman a copy of the letter. Meriden and Williamsport exercise the same jurisdiction as New Castle, according to the poll. Wimer's letter follows:

"In December of the year 1934 the council of the city of New Castle adopted Council Bill No. 28 giving to the chief of police and the mayor the discretionary power of recommending a refund of a portion of $1.00 dance permits sold to proprietors of establishments where alcoholic beverages are sold up to 90 per cent of the amount paid by them each month.

"During the discussion of this action by the council, which you are of course familiar, the question came up as to the matter of charging these proprietors both the $15.00 annual license fee and the $1.00 daily permit.

"Feeling that it would be interesting to know the practice of other third class cities in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania I decided to forward all such cities the following questionnaire:

"Question 1—Do you have in your city, establishments where alcoholic beverages are sold and where the patrons are allowed to dance free of charge if they so desire?

"Question 2—Are the proprietors of these establishments required to purchase a dance permit for each evening such free dancing is allowed at the rate of $1.00 per evening? (Section 2631 of the code)

"Question 3—Are these same proprietors required to purchase a license at the rate of $15.00 per year? (Section 2632 of the code)

"I forwarded this questionnaire to the 44 Third Class Cities of the commonwealth and have received a reply from 30 of them to date. A recapitulation of these 30 replies discloses the following information:

"Question 1—Cities having such establishments, 29; cities not having such establishments, 1.

"Questions 2 and 3—Cities requiring $1.00 permit but not the $15.00 annual license, 3; cities requiring the $15.00 annual license but not the $1.00 permit, 7; cities allowing the choice of the $1.00 permit or the $15.00 annual license, 3; cities requiring neither the $1.00 permit nor the $15.00 annual license, 14; cities requiring both the $1.00 permit and the $15.00 annual license, 2.

"The city of New Castle is not included in the above recapitulation which of course would be classified in the last class shown above. The two cities so classified above are, Meadville and Williamsport which you will see are the only cities in the commonwealth following the same practice as the city of New Castle. "This information is submitted for whatever value it might have to you."

Captain of detectives Ray Showalter has received from J. Edgar Hoover, in charge of the department of justice, a letter concerning a latent print taken by Showalter following a robbery at the State Liquor store, in Produce street. Hoover informed Showalter that the print Showalter took from a check which one of the bandits tossed aside, proved to be the right thumb impression of James Jeffries, alias James O'Malley, alias Frank Ryan, alias James Murphy, fugitive from justice. The fugitive was fatally shot by a Ben Avon, Pa., policeman. The bandit's pal escaped while Ryan, as he was best known, was being placed in an ambulance. The liquor store robbery here occurred June 11.

Most critical times of day for the city police department is between 11:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. and 5 p. m. to 7 p. m., according to Police Chief Criswell. He made this remark while returning from a Lehigh Portland Cement company quarry yesterday where a man was fatally shocked. He said usually police receives emergency calls when the force is weakened. However, when the radio was used yesterday both cruiser cars dashed to police headquarters within two minutes. One was in North street and the other at the bus station when the emergency call was flashed.

Another Louis And Schmeling Fight Planned

If Schmeling And Braddock Bout Falls Through, Louis May Get Chance

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 1.—Another fight between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling is in the offing. Mike Jacobs, promoter of the 20th Century club, said today if he failed to reach an agreement with Madison Square Garden relative to a Schmeling-Braddock battle for the heavyweight title, he would immediately rematch Louis and Schmeling for a September date.

Mike has offered the Garden three propositions: (1) He will buy the Garden's contract on Braddock; (2) He will sell the Garden his own contract on Schmeling; or (3) He will go in with the Garden on a joint promotion, provided the fight is held in one of the ball parks which he controls and not in the Garden's Long Island hotel.

Schmeling-Braddock It is evident both sides are playing poker with both afraid to call. The time element will soon force both hands to a show-down.

By the terms of the contract with the champion, the Garden must name a challenger satisfactory to Braddock by the 29th of this month. The Garden threatens to name John Henry Lewis, the light heavyweight champion, whom it controls, and whom Braddock has already beaten.

The boxing commission will turn down this proposal because it is already on record with Schmeling as its only suitable and acceptable challenger. If Jacobs carries out his threat to rematch Louis and Schmeling, the Garden and Braddock will be left holding an empty bag. In that event Jacobs would have another huge gate and the Garden would have a champion but nobody to fight him. And at the moment the champion is as short of money as a Chiquaqua is of hair.

Would Draw Crowd Both Mike Jacobs and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, believe another Louis-Schmeling fight would draw far more than the last which grossed over half a million dollars. Said Joe: "Max would like a crack at the title, of course, but in a title bout he would get a very small percentage. In a return bout with Louis, he would get three or four times as much as he would in a title bout. Therefore, we'd just as soon fight Louis again."

Nevertheless, the long history of boxing proves that whenever any considerable portion of a million dollars is involved, businessmen always get together somehow.

And the rulers of the Garden and the 20th Century are, first last and all the time, business men.

Yankees Down Red Sox Twice, Increase Lead

Yanks Now Lead By Nine And A Half Games Over Boston Red Sox Team

CARDS WIN TWO FROM PITTSBURGH

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 1.—Traditionally, the club which is out in front in each major league on July 4, halfway point of baseball season, figures to win the pennant, especially if the lead is wide, and that seems to make the Yankees a sure thing in the American. Their lead is growing all the time.

But by at least one vote the Yankees fall short of being the unanimous choice. Listen to Joe DiMaggio, the prize rookie and outstanding dissenter of the year:

"Clubs have blown big leads at the head of the stretch before now. We're hot, to be sure, and I like to think I will play in a world series in my first big league season. But, fellow, there is only one thing sure about baseball—you never can tell what will happen next."

Yanks Win Two.

"We seem to have the Red Sox licked. I'll grant you that, but in my opinion, the Tigers are tougher and will keep right on getting tougher from here on out. We ought to win, but there are still seven other clubs in the league and more than 70 games to be played."

You might not find one person in one particular group of 55,000 to agree with Frisco Joe's sage professional observations. That crowd saw the Yankees in action at home in the stadium yesterday after a long road trip. They watched the Yanks whip the Red Sox twice and increase their lead to 9 1/2 games and that was a clincher.

Lefty Grove and Lefty Gomez started out bravely for the Sox and Yanks, respectively, in the opener, but neither finished and Pat Malone was credited with the 10 to 5 victory, in which the Yanks made 14 hits, including Lou Gehrig's 19th home run.

Gehrig Hits Two.

The second game found Johnny Marcum on the hill for the Sox and Bump Hadley for the Yanks, and they were still there at the finish. Hadley cashing in on a three-run rally in the eighth, 6 to 3.

Gehrig hit his 20th home run in this one and DiMaggio started the winning rally with a triple.

Jimmy Foss made himself some hits during the day, stole third base once and was the big noise for the Sox but not big enough to halt the attack which has carried the Yanks to their present position.

Cards Win Pair.

While the Yanks stole the American league show, the Cardinals, or rather, John (Pepper) Martin personally, looked like fireworks in the National.

The Cards moved back into a full game lead over the idle Chicago Cubs, by whipping Pittsburgh twice, 2 to 1 and 4 to 3. Mace Brown allowed the Cards only three hits in the opener, but lost when Pepper Martin tripled to score Stu Martin. Pepper Martin then won the nightcap in the ninth, when, with the score tied, he singled a run home.

The only other game of the day saw the Giants drop into the second division behind Cincinnati. The Bees stopped the Giants, 7 to 6.

Radiators Win From Knights

The National Radiators took another step nearer the first-half flag in the City Softball league last night at Radiator Field by whipping the Knights of St. Vitus 9 to 3 in a postponed league game. Gregory held the heavy slugging Knights to four hits.

The Rad players found Rod Pezzone and Mallele for 11 hits. Zingaro, J. Yerage, and Cople for the Knights with the only hits, and Hilton, Nickie Ross and Ambrosia, featured at bat.

The same two teams will play again tonight at the B. & O. field. Score by innings: R. H. E. Knights 000 000 021—3 4 2 Rads 000 500 009—9 11 0 Batteries—Rads: G. Ross and Foraturo. Knights: R. Pezzone, Mallele and Bullano. Umpires—Monath and Tip Richards.

Pheasant Chicks Available July 5

Day old ring neck pheasant chicks will be available after July 4 for Lawrence county sportsmen who desire to raise them until old enough to let go, according to Karl Rohrer, president of the sportsmen's association. He said that the first batch of chicks would leave the incubator July 4.

CHURCH LEAGUE THURSDAY NIGHT

The first-half of the New Castle Church golf league will end at the New Castle Field Club course on Thursday night with the playing of five matches. The matches are scheduled to start at 5:30 o'clock. The Highland U. P. team is in the lead at the present time by a scant few points.

The league leaders Highland U. P. will battle the East Side boys under the sandtraps and on the greens. The First Christians led by Sam Lewis will take on the First U. P. team. The First M. E. team will have the Trinity team as opponents. The First Baptists meet the Mahoning churches team. The First Presbyterians will oppose the St. Marys-St. Josephs churches team.

Joe S. McCann, member of the advisory committee of Sylvan Heights course and W. T. Saul and Dave Ashton are in Pittsburgh today, playing over the North Parks course.

The new tee on No. 5 hole at Sylvan Heights course has been completed and was used for the first time last night. The yardage for the hole has been cut from 610 yards to 550, and the par from 6 to 5. The players expressed their approval of the change and many proposed to go out and par the new hole.

Greenskeeper John Reed has completed the plans for the new green which will be built on No. 3 hole at Sylvan Heights course. The new green will be about thirty yards farther than the present green and will be a magnificent layout. The green will be eighty feet wide at its widest point. It will be trapped at either side in front of the hole with a distance of from 20 to 25 feet between the trap and the green. There will be an opening about 40 feet wide between the sandtraps, making a sporty hole, with plenty of room to get into the mouth of the green. Work is being started on the project now.

This evening will be another busy night at Sylvan Heights course, when in addition to the regular play, members of The Townsmen and the Pro-Indus club will stage a match with a kickers handicap thrown in.

Don't overlook the fact that the flooring used can make a room seem larger or smaller. For instance, the greater number of strips in narrow flooring tend to make a room look larger, while wide flooring makes it appear smaller.

Renewed Demand For Utilities Causes Firmer Market Tone Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 1.—Renewed demand for utilities, particularly preferred issues, brought a firmer tone into the stock market around noon today. Losses were wiped out and a number of issues scored gains.

Another jump in electric power production to a new record high spurred buying in the utility section. Standard Gas issues were outstanding with gains running to more than 2 points. The 7 and 6 per cent preferred reached new highs for the year. Consolidated Edison jumped 4 points, while others advanced fractionally.

In electrical equipments, Westinghouse soared 3 points. General Electric also improved.

Steels and motors lagged but recovered most of their earlier losses. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Chrysler were virtually unchanged.

Rails were mixed. Oils and farm implements were general soft. Merchandising shares were lower. Foods were steady.

Bonds ruled irregularly higher. Wheat spurred nearly 2 cents a bushel. Cotton improved.

Shantung Girl
Aspires To Be
'Joan Of Arc'(International News Service)
PEIPING—In a woman's hospice at Tsinan sits Miss Kuo Shihhua dreaming her dreams of a great military career. The native press has dubbed her "Mu-lan" or Joan of Arc.

Miss Kuo disappeared from a normal school a year ago to travel to Nanking seeking to enlist in the army after interviewing Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and General Feng Yu-hsiang. Despite her boyish bob, officers of the national army at Nanking refused to enroll the girl. She denied that she was a girl and was placed under detention for two months as a possible spy.

Upon release Miss Kuo was furnished a ticket home but managed to leave the train at Tsinan. Her mind slightly changed as to career, the girl went to the Bureau of Public Safety and applied for a job with the women police.

Her case being unique, officials carried it direct to Governor Han Fu-chu who gave her a personal audience when he advised her to remain in the hospice until the time came for examination of candidates for the plain clothes division of the provincial police.

Says American
Business Men
Should Relax

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 29.—A new boom in divorces if American husbands continue to give up love for fat was forecast by Charles Atlas, noted physical culturist, on his return here from England.

Convinced that the average Britisher remembers the American businessman for two things—bluster and blubber—Atlas had a trunkful of barbells for the Babbitts.

"I think the best way to make American businessmen realize how they let their chins, tummies, and arches droop, is to stage a man's fashion show in each office once a month."

Adding another social hint for the captains of industry, Atlas, now 43 years old but still able to run 10 miles in approximately 58 minutes, strongly recommended a "seventh inning stretch" for the average Britisher's calm and poise to his accustomed air of relaxation in the midst of business. He wasn't sure that John Bull's "spot of tea" at four o'clock would meet American requirements.

Japanese Forces
In Manchuria To Be Strengthened

(International News Service)

TOKIO.—Japanese forces in Manchuria are to be greatly strengthened. The aim of the Japanese war office is to bring their units up to the estimated strength of the Soviet troops in Eastern Siberia—about 250,000 men.

The Japanese also contemplate sending large groups of settlers to reinforce the garrison and provide the requisite Japanese man-power in that region.

These plans are the result of an agreement between Lieut-General Seishiro Itagaki, chief of staff of the Japanese army in Manchuria, and the military authorities in Tokio.

When the garrison has been sufficiently strengthened, the war office intends to make it permanent. Mechanized corps, "chemical" corps and other specialized units are to be established. Funds will be drawn from the "Manchukuo emergency fund"—the existing program having been found inadequate.

Six Died When This Car Was Struck by a Train

Six persons, one an infant, were instantly killed when a fast train struck this automobile at Sangerfield Crossing, N. Y. The driver of the car was Elina Andreotti, of the Bronx, N. Y. Eyewitnesses said that the car, traveling towards Syracuse, rolled on the railroad track just as the fast train started over the crossing. The wreckage was carried a quarter mile.

PLAY SAFE

There is no better investment for a home, especially in spring and summer, than a small, steady step-ladder or stepstool. There are so many places a home mistress wants to reach at housecleaning and decorating time, and so many accidents are caused by using risky tables, and makeshift ladders—more acidents than from almost any other household source. So get a good little ladder or a nice little stepstool—and play safe!

State Moves To Take Action In Night Rider Case

Seek To Ferret Out White-Hooded Band Of Night Riders In North Carolina

VICTIMS AFRAID TO TELL FACTS

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 1.—Terror streaked through the "little folk" of this quiet North Carolina corner today, as the law of the land moved secretly to strike down a fearful, white-hooded band that stalks in the night and deals out punishment according to its own cruel jurisprudence.

State Solicitor John J. Burney revealed in an exclusive interview today that he believed at least a dozen persons have been dragged from their homes by the marauders, and have felt the stinging lash of a rough and heavy leather strap. Burney, since the Columbus county grand jury ordered an investigation, has talked to six of the victims—men and women at first afraid to tell what they knew. Assured the law would protect them, they told a pitiful story.

Promises Action
Thus far, the night raiders have struck at no prominent persons. Their victims have been the people who live in the small houses of Columbus county, to the south of Wilmington, and just across the border from South Carolina. Burney said: "Every man connected with this outrage to law and order is going to be ferreted out and prosecuted. I don't care who or what he is."

The solicitor was secretive about his investigations, but promised that "there might be a break the latter part of this week, or early next week." The Columbus county grand jury adjourned on last Friday after examining about thirty witnesses in connection with the flappings. It will not meet again until the August term, so that the case, if any will not come out into the open until then.

Starts Checkup
Meanwhile Burney intends to check up on three persons whom he and the foreman of the grand jury, Hackett Applewhite, suspect.

"We have our own way of checking up," he said. "I think that we can soon determine whether we have a case against these individuals suspected."

Until now, Burney explained, he has not secured enough evidence to hold anyone.

Burney said he had learned the band has been operating for about seven months. He said victims were taken from their home at midnight, carried into the swamp-lands nearby, and flogged on bare flesh. Then the hooded members shaved a cross on the heads of the male victims, and in the case of women, clipped off most of the hair.

The existence of the band was revealed here during a recent trial, when Mrs. Bertha Fowler, mother of a plaintiff, refused to take off her hat in the courtroom. When court attaches removed the hat forcibly, it was found that Mrs. Fowler's head was clipped, and that the indentation of a cross was made across the head by a cross-like section of the hair being clipped closer than the rest.

Name Committees For Flower Show Here In November

Committees that will handle the Northwestern Growers flower show here in November were named Tuesday night when local florists sponsoring the show met. Charles B. Hennon will act as the general chairman of the show with the following committee chairmen:

Entertainment, banquet and dance, Thomas Cunningham. Advertising, Fred Paul Butz; Publicity, Robert A. Weingartner; Treasurer, Frank Fischer; Secretary, Lee Houk; Tickets and Registration, Edward Hennon.

The show will be a mammoth display of chrysanthemums, roses and other seasonal flowers. Because the national mum show is in Hartford, Conn., this year, the show in New Castle is expected to draw exhibitors and visitors from Chicago and Philadelphia.

The show will be held in the Cathedral and will be held on November 11, 12 and 13.

NEW BOWL
A grand new aluminum mixing bowl came out in time for Easter. It holds five quarts, has a new lip from which to pour the batter, and a handy handle to hold the bowl so that it won't go slithering onto the floor. It is also light, of course, being made of aluminum and strong and best of all, it is not expensive. Consider it as a shower present.

Unearth Bones Of Huge Animal 300-Feet Long

(International News Service)

LONDON. — Eighty fossilized bones of an Iguanodon, which experts say, roamed the forests and marshes of Kent and Sussex Wealden 80,000,000 years or more ago, have been unearthed at a quarry at Wittenham, near Rye, Kent, Eng.

A British Museum paleontologist visited the quarry and pronounced the bones to be in excellent preservation.

They include 12 caudal (or tail) bones, several long vertebrae measuring 9 inches across, ribs set in matrices or ironstone, and limb bones.

Close watch is being kept for the skull, which is believed to be still in the quarry-face.

Iguanodons were sometimes over 300 feet long, stood 12 feet, or 20 feet high, browsed on plants, and probably swam with the aid of an immense tail. They were fierce fighters, although not carnivorous, and they belong to the Mesozoic Age.

If the budget must be seriously considered there are soft woods which are serviceable and beautiful. Look into what the market offers in Douglas fir and southern pine.
